

Building a safety culture

Learning from the past
Building for the future

Many organisations get this far down the list and then ring us. After all, the bottom two are really difficult. If simply telling people how we want them to behave worked, we would invest in a few posters or a video and every safety culture would be healthy and robust. The truth is that building a sustainable safety culture is a complex blend of Behaviours, Attitudes and Environmental factors, that's where our expertise comes in.

2macs

Our training team have delivered programmes for most of the world's leading oil and gas companies as well as many other areas of industry. Our experience is global covering the Far East, The Middle East, Europe, Africa, The USA and The Caribbean.

Programmes

Our safety programmes are practical, memorable and highly effective. We build skills and supply easy to use tools and techniques which help drive real positive cultural change.

Safety Leadership

Working with Senior Leaders to interpret and understand safety strategy as it impacts their division or asset. Through this programme we help leaders identify key cultural drivers and develop clear and incisive actions to ensure the activation of safety strategy.

Advanced safety coach

Developing the roles and skills of Advanced Safety Coaches in order to keep the safety focus and understand how team dynamics effect safety culture performance.

Safety coaching

Developing the skills of first line Managers and Supervisors to deal with day to day operational safety issues. This two day programme includes onsite coaching sessions conducting real safety conversations and promoting meaningful worker engagement

Team safety

Inspiring an interdependent culture. Building skills and confidence. Raising awareness and increasing responsibility to take ownership of all unsafe acts and conditions.

Incident investigation

Providing the essential tools to enable the identification of critical factors, trace root causes and make impactful recommendations to prevent reoccurrence.

Conference events

Distilling the central message of any event in an interactive, thought provoking and memorable way.
